AT THE BECK OF KING AND COUNTRY

ONE of the vexed questions under discussion is the effect that the war will have upon immigration, rather the import of the cessation of hostilities. Tonopah, as well as many other towns in Nevada, has witnessed the departure of many aliens to fight for their side of the controversy. Nearly all of those who departed were unmarried and had no property interests here. The greater number were sending abroad all of their wages except what was needed for sustenance of the barest sort. Their places have been filled largely by native born or naturalized Americans with family and property ties, reducing the number of people that daily "rusted" for jobs. The men who took their places were among those who were indebted to local tradesmen and to the owners of the houses in which they lived. Their employment will mean the settlement of debt, the placing of money in circulation, the betterment of the community.

On the other hand, the men who left this morning to fight for their native land, to which they still owe allegiance, were in the main a body of hardy people, skilled in their craft and good candidates for citizenship. Their patriotism is to be commended and extolled, but at the same time there is a feeling of satisfaction that their positions are to be filled by people who owe stronger allegiance to the United States than to any foreign potentate.

When the war is over, what will be the result? Will the men who left their jobs return to them and dispossess the native born and the naturalized? If they do, it will disturb conditions in this country, for many thousands of homes are being built by the people who have taken the jobs of those who held their land of nativity of greater respect and worth than the country of their temporary adoption. After the war there will be the tremendous task of rehabilitation and this will employ all who care to engage in it, while there will be opportunities offered to engage in manufacture, agriculture and mining by reason of the decimation of hosts that were hitherto engaged in these occupations. Perhaps there will be a still further exodus from these shores after the signing of the pact of peace.

Such as leave may be spared, for there was never a proper equilibrium established between the supply and demand of the labor market. It is true that many of the idle people in the United States are unemployable, due largely to their greater devotion to propaganda than to patriotism, to talk rather than to toil, but even at that they are Americans as a rule, or liable to become such, and this makes it pleasing to think that they will be given at least the opportunity of declining positions. At all events, the laborer who has hungry mouths other than his own to provide for, one that of the burden bearing, faithful wife, and the others the little ones that depend upon him for sustenance, the government that looks to him for physical, moral and financial aid, may find him ready when the summons comes.

RULE AND RUIN METHODS EMPLOYED

THE commissioners of Nye county are in session, or presumably so, no public information being given forth of their deliberations, as is customary in other counties. It was only by devious manner that the Bonanza was able to secure for the public information that they had held a dark lantern session at an unappointed time and had raised the taxes 15 cents, despite the fact that the valuation had been increased a couple of million dollars.

The property owners may well wonder what they are doing now. Perhaps planning another raise in taxes, but undoubtedly considering additional ways of expending the public money without it proving for the public good.

In this connection the Bonanza rises to inquire why the commissioners continue to authorize the district attorney to employ another attorney to do his work, to be paid by county warrants, when the district attorney has practically nothing to do himself but engage in private practice.

The Bonanza has the backing of practically all the business men and heavy property owners in its demand that the rate of taxation be reduced and that the ruinous expenditures of the county commissioners be reduced to a point within reason.

If the county commissioners continue to keep in office a deputy district attorney that is not required, and thereby continue to squander the county money, the grand jury will be called upon to take the matter up. The time has come to call a halt to those in authority to make expiation for their wanton extravagance and their defiance of the public.

WILL SEEK THE AMERICAN MARKET

TAKE away from the United States its present war orders and the country would be in a pretty mess. It is nothing short of pessimism, of course, to talk of an uncertain future in the face of the year's new record in goods exported to Europe, but the prudent man will not be deceived, but will trim his sails against a probably stormy day ahead. At the present moment trade is very unevenly distributed. While shoe factories in certain cities are busy on European orders, other shops in cities like Haverhill have been laying off men for a month because imported leather that they use is no longer available. Steel mills are overcrowded with orders, but there are other industries that find buyers reluctant because of the enormous shipments of goods still held in Netherlands or other neutral ports, but ultimately destined for the American market.

Frank Harris, in his book on "England on Germany," points out the fact that the inflation of prices in America must rule for a considerable time after the war ends. On the other hand, European countries, having lost half of their savings, will be poor, and consequently prices will rule low there. European factories, once they resume the normal manufacture of their goods for export, will seek the American market because of its lowered tariff and the purchasing power of its people. "Accordingly the trade of America after the war will have to bear the severe competition of cheap European products."

ASSESSMENT IS PUT ON A CAVED HOLE

The Exchequer Mining company has levied an assessment of 2 cents per share, but no one around here can tell why.

The company has done no work for 20 years, the hoisting works and machinery were removed years ago and all that remains is a caved hole in the ground. Such wildcat claims are a detriment to the legitimate mines of the Comstock, for as soon as an investor finds that he has been bunched he refuses to contribute further to any mining development, no matter how meritorious it may be.—Enterprise.

FORMER ARMY MAN ARRESTED

W. M. Adams, who claims to have been a member of the 14th United States Infantry during the occupation of China by the different powers, was arrested recently by Sheriff Harris and taken to Elko, where he will have to stand trial on a charge of horse stealing. He was caught near the Idaho-Nevada line with thirteen head of horses in his possession. The animals are alleged to have been stolen from a rancher near Death.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

A general discussion regarding the abolition of capital punishment will be held at Sparks in the near future. A number of prominent lawyers, ministers and others will speak on the subject.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The following prices f. o. b. Detroit, effective August 2, 1915:

Ford Runabout.....	$390.00
Ford Touring Car.....	440.00
Ford Town Car.....	640.00

No speedometer included in this year's equipment, otherwise cars fully equipped.

There can be no assurance given against an advance in these prices at any time. We guarantee, however, that there will be no reduction in these prices prior to August 1, 1916.

Profit-Sharing with Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914, we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between Aug. 1, 1914, and Aug. 1, 1915, we would share profits with retail purchasers to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car.

We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed in their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay. Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-15 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date. We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars delivered during August, September and October, 1915.
